Nebraska coach Tom Osborne is banking on an improved pass rush to slow the Frogs' aerial attack, which has produced 391 yards in two games. They averaged 40 passes a game in losses to Texas-Arlington 24-7 and Arizona State 33-10.

"The pass rush is at least half of your pass defense because anybody who is able to play major college football can stand back there and hit some passes if given time," Osborne

Jim Shofner, Texas Christian: "We are a young team and we looked like it against Texas-Arlington. Last week against Arizona State was the first time in the past 12 games that we have played with the intensity I expect a team coached by me to have. Tom Osborne, Nebraska: "I think their coaches fell they've got some pretty good defensive players and they didn't play too badly in either game even though they lost. So, it will be somewhat of a test offensively to see if we can move well against them.'

Oil Firm Helped Ford

Washington (UPI) — Phillips Petroleum Co. said Friday it made illegal contributions to two House campaigns of Gerald R. Ford and at least 39 other members of Congress including the leadership of the House Democrats and Senate Republicans.

Ford received $1,000 in 1970 and another $1,000 in 1972 for re-election campaigns from his Michigan congressional district, the company said.

But none of the recipients knew that the money came from corporate funds in violation of federal election laws, the Oklahoma-based company said in documents filed Friday with the U.S. District Court and the Securities and Exchange

Phillips said illegal contributions of unspecified amounts went to Sen. Howard Baker, D-Tenn., later a member of the Senate Watergate Committee which considered - among other things - illegal contributions to Richard M. Nixon's re-election campaign.

Person Who Knew Dead

Phillips also said contributions were apparent ly made to the presidential campaigns of Lyndon B. Johnson in 1964 and Nixon in 1968. But the company said "it was not possible to reconstruct the details as to the contributions to presidential candidates in 1964 and 1968" because the only person who knew for certain was dead.

Another section of the report listed presidential campaign spending of $25,000 in 1964, $50,000 in 1968 and $100,000 in 1972.

Phillips did not specify the amounts in most cases, but said House Speaker Carl Albert, D-Okla., received $2,500. An illegal contribution of an unspecified amount was made in a fund raising dinner for House Democratic leaders Thomas P. O'Neill of Massachusetts, the company said.

GOP Leaders Helped It said "smaller contributions" up to $500 were made to Senate GOP leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and his assistant, Sen. Robert Griffin of Michigan.

The only candidate for the 1976 presidential nomination of the list of recipients was Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash. The amount was not specified. Phillips and its former chairman, W.W. Keeler, were convicted Dec. 4, 1973, of making an illegal contribution of $100,000 to Nixon's 1972 cam-

The report said Keeler told Stans that the amounts were "out of the question," but did come up with $100,000 from Phillips.

The report said Keeler talked "to most of the oil industry executives suggested at the meeting" with Stans, but almost all refused to comply.

Gulf Oil and Ashland Oil have also been convicted of illegal contributions to the Nixon cam-

In its report Friday, Phillips said $2.6 million was taken from the corporate treasury and funneled to two Swiss corporations. The company returned $1.35 million to the United States between 1964 and 1972 for use in state and federal elections.

Of the $1.25 million left overseas, none was used for bribes or payments to foreign government officials, it said.

Hruska, Curtis Aided Phillips said contributions of $1,000 were made in 1970 to the Senate campaigns of William Brock. R-Tenn.; Paul Fannin, R-Ariz.; Republican John Wold of Wyoming, who was not elected, and Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb.

Senate Calls On HEW To Stop Ordering Busing

passed legislation that would stop the Department of Health, Education and Welfare - but not the courts - from ordering school busing to achieve racial desegration.

The vote was 60 to 18 in favor of a bill that had embroiled the Seante in debate on the busing issue for 10 days.

The antibusing provision was included in an appropriations bill providing $45.1 billion for the Departments of Labor and HEW for the 15 months that began July 1. The measure now goes to a House-Senate conference committee to iron out differences in the two versions.

The bill forbids HEW to threaten a cutoff of sederal education aid as a means of forcing communities to bus children beyond the school Dearest their home.

But it does not affect court-ordered busing or busing initiated under threat of court order. Most of the desegregation school busing now in progress stems from court action or the threat of

University of Nebraska President D. B. Varner told the trustees of the University Foundation Friday that "no radical modifications are needed" in the present System of central administration used to govern the NU system. Varner said he wanted to clarify the function of the central administration "to put into perspective this whole set of intra-institutional relationships."

Varner said the role and function of the central administration has been in the news frequently in the past month. Critics have questioned whether the central administration is in touch with the three campuses sufficiently, and if the central administration system is the best method for running the university system. Varner reviewed the history of the current system, going back to the acquisition of the Municipal University of Omaha.

Varner said the central administration

costly. He noted regents have delegated "a great deal of authority and responsibility" to the president, and that authority has in turn been delegated to the chancellors on each campus.

"This authority, it must be underscored, is delegated, and each of the campuses operates as a part of the total University of Nebraska...," Varner said.

Violinist Sergui Luca 🦄 Scores Big Success

By RICHARD GRACE

Sergiu Luca, violinist, was the featured artist in the initial concert of the 1975-76 Performing Arts Series of the University of Nebraska at Kimball Hall Friday evening. Unequivocally, he was a huge success.

Born in Israel and later musically trained in this country, Luca demonstrated his superior talent and flashing technique with his performance of com-Brahms and Bartok.

Luca opened the program with Dvorak's Sonata in F major. Although well-played by both musicians (John Schoenfield, piano) the work was uninteresting and dull, especially when compared to the electricity Luca generated during the rest of the program. Also at this point the personable violinist chose to verbally explain and prepare the audience for the remaining selections. Luca noted the differences in his instrument and bow for the playing of Bach's unaccompanied Sonata in G minor. Tuned lower and using gut strings instead of metal, the older Baroque instrument possessed a lovely quality, both rich and mellow, delicate and clean in the faster passages and sometimes strangely out of tune Rokeby Elevator to our unorientated ears.

Luca, presently preparing the Bach unaccompanied works for a recording, showed an excellent technique and thorough understanding of the composer.

Further explanation was forthcoming in the second half of the concert. Richly spiced with "one-liners" that were reminiscent of Victor Borge, Luca aptly supplied a background for a deeper appreciation of the Hungarian born Bela Bartok and three Hungarian dances by Brahms transcribed by Joseph Joachim.

Luca asked the audience to think of a "Hungarian Bartek sandwich." He performed one of the Brahms dances, then the First Sonata of Bartok and finished with the remaining two dances of Brahms. The violinist explained that since he is from "that neck of the woods" positions by Dvorak, Bach, (Eastern Europe) Bartok is like a peanut-butter and jelly sandwich to him while to others the composer might be more like a mustard and pickle sandwich. In any event, his informal and informative talk led to a truly exciting performance and there was no doubt Luca was much at home with this highly technical Sonata.

Finally, mention must be. made of the careful and skillful playing of pianist John Schoenfield. Too often, one forgets the sonata embodies two equal partners to make music, rather than as an accompaniment toanother instrument. Bartok's piano part in his Sonata is certainly no mere accompaniment.

Burglars Strike

Burglars entered the Reddish Brothers Elevator in Rokeby sometime between 8 a.m. Thursday and 6 p.m. Friday, peeled open a safe door and took $180 in cash and about $1,000 in checks, the Lancaster County sheriff's office reported.

Deputies said several miscellaneous items of undetermined value were also taken. The burglars entered by removing a window air conditioner and crawling through the window, they said.

University of Nebraska President D. B. Varner told the trustees of the University Foundation Friday that "no radical modifications are needed" in the present system of central administration used to govern the NU system. Varner said he wanted to clarify the function of the central administration "to put into perspective this whole set of intra-institutional relationships."

Varner said the role and function of the central administration has been in the news frequently in the past month. Critics have questioned whether the central administration is in touch with the three campuses sufficiently, and if the central administration system is the best method for running the university system. Varner reviewed the history of the current system, going back to the acquisition of the Municipal University of Omaha.

Varner said the central administration

costly. He noted regents have delegated "a great deal of authority and responsibility" to the president, and that authority has in turn been delegated to the chancellors on

"This authority, it must be underscored, is delegated, and each of the campuses operates as a part of the total University of Nebraska...," Varner said. "While the present administrative struc-

"It may well be that adjustments need to be made-particularly in administrative areas such as uniform data and accounting and perhaps in the budget procedure-but of the present structure, not any major changes," Varner said.

He said it is only normal for the individual campuses to look at central administration as bothersome. Varner said that the news media, though wellintentioned, has sometimes misled the public concerning the functions of the regents and the central administration. Varner concluded by saying he was optimistic about NU's future.

"Frankly, I grew distressed at the collective handwringing exercise in which I find us so often engaged . . .

Shooting Bewildering

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Without ever having known Sherdell Lewis, knowing none of his friends, knowing none of the officers involved, knowing nothing at all about the case except that which poured forth in the form of news stories, this writer finds his emotions running high. He tends to ask a lot of the questions asked by many of the black people of Lincoln — Why? For what purpose?

How could it have happened? But it did and the shooting of Lewis by a county sheriff's officer Wednesday night must now be dealt with by the community.

Dealing with it is terribly complicated by a lack of information, largely the result of the refusal by County Attorney Ron Lahners to provide the community with anything with which to make a judgment. In a series of criminal events culminating with the Lewis shooting, Lahners has more and more assumed for himself a dictatorial role in the release of information.

We are not talking about information that would tend to prejudice a jury or that would interfere with the conduct of an investigation. We are talking about bare facts that might at least help people understand the actions of law-enforcement officers.

Not until two days following the shooting did Lahners release information supporting a previously unconfirmed report that Lewis was armed when he answered his front door. Holding a .22 caliber rifle, Lewis may have presented what the deputy sheriff considered to be a threat to the life of officers.

The extent of the threat Lewis presented will be a key matter for later official determination. Did Lewis present enough of a threat to justify the quick and deadly firing by the deputy sheriff?

Other questions come to mind in rapidfire order, but no answers. Whatever the circumstances, are police and sheriffs properly trained in the non-violent arrest of suspects? Are they properly trained in the use of their firearms?

After all, this is the second killing of a black man by law enforcement officers in a very short period of time. And both under questionable circumstances.

 $\Delta \Delta \Delta$

What about the suspicions of many of the black people of Lincoln? Do police and the white population in general have no real understanding at all of the black com-

Do the law enforcement agencies have a paranoid fear of blacks?

There are a multitude of legal and sociological questions that cry out for answers. It seems like such an empty thing to say but what else is there — we can only await developments to begin to form the answers and the solutions to the problems that become apparent.

Lahners is to be commended for his quick referral of the matter to appropriate federal authorities. Not only did the circumstances leave no impartial local agency to conduct an investigation, but no local agency would have been sufficiently believable, at least in the black community.

There is no reason to believe that federal authorities will conduct anything but a fair and objective investigation. There is no reason to believe that justice, ultimately, will not be done.

There is likely to be, of course, a host of matters beyond the realm of judicial findings for this community to examine when all the facts have been forthcoming. But we believe this community has the fiber to do what needs to be done.

One may not condone all aspects of the life of Sherdell Lewis but one can share in the sense of loss of his family and friends.

And one might add a word, too, for the many law-enforcement officers who diligently try day by day to do their lob with a high sense of responsibility and fairness. There are many of them and they have largely a thankless task. It would be a gross miscarriage of justice to paint them all as hardened, unfeeling individuals with violence in their hearts.

Many of them, too, are now feeling the awful pangs and anguish of a situation that each of us wish might never have come to

Our fears, our ignorance, our prejudices, our misunderstandings - these are not the things that will now sustain us and keep us from further human suffering and despair. Now we must look for our patience, our good will and our faith in the fundamental justice of the land. If it is a faith that seems to you to be severely strained, consider if there were ever a faith of any kind that was never tested to almost the outer limits of its endurance. The faith that is real is that which, when tested, sustains us and gives us the courage, determination and plain old guts to perservere to a better time of justice and equality.

We can only hope to learn from what has happened something that makes life more meaningful and rewarding for the living. Maybe in this way Sherdell Lewis will have contributed far more than most men to his race and to his community. Through his untimely death, maybe many others will find a more lasting and fulfilling

What more in death than life could a man hope to render on this earth?

WASHINGTON -- It may be too late to cut Big Brother completely down to size, but a modest step in that direction will be taken today, Sept. 27. This is the effective date of the Privacy Act of 1974, a law designed to protect citizens from invasions of privacy by the federal government. To this end, it permits individuals for the first time to inspect information about themselves contained in agency files and to challenge, correct or amend the material.

Most Americans would hardly know where to begin. A fouryear study completed in June 1974, by the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights found 858 data banks with more than 1.2 billion records in 54 federal agencies. These data banks, the study noted, "are by Computer technology also has made it more difficult to distinguish between the legitimate needs of government and private agencies for information on an individual and the right of the individual to keep the information private. In most cases, moreover, the individual is unaware of what information about him is on file, and where.

The Privacy Act will go part of the way toward solving this problem and reaffirming what Supreme Court Justice Louis Brandeis once called the "right to be let alone - the most comprehensive of rights, and the right most valued by civilized guarantor of our privacy," Ohio

-Facets, Problems Of Gun Control-

Plenty Of Laws, Controls

In regard to the Sept. 25 article about Sara Moore's purchasing the pistol, I would like to introduce several items that might be of interest to Star readers, particularly those who favor stricter gun control.

First, I wonder what kind of collector Mr. Fernwood is to sell two pieces from his "collection" in a three-week period. I also wonder why he sold her a .44 magnum for protection when a much smaller gun would have been more practical. I don't even have need for a .44.

Mr. Fernwood might be in for a surprise if he would read the California firearms statutes. They state that anyone who transfers a pistol is required to have a license. They also state that a five-day waiting period is required before delivery of the

There is also Federal Form 4473 which is required to be filled out when purchasing a pistol or rifle and is retained in a permanent record, surrenderable to federal officials on demand, by the dealer.

There are plenty of gun-control laws and controls on dealers. If those laws were enforced and prosecuted, shoddy operations like Fernwood's would be controlled and incidents such as happened Monday would be curtailed and/or

Approach To Gun Control

Since our nation was born, guns have furnished food, a measure of security and pleasure, and have become deeply entrenched in our society. Our blessings are many and great but the good things in life are not to be had singly but come to us as a mixture. Guns are one of these.

Since guns were first made, millions have been bought, sold, traded, given and stolen and to some extent this will always be so. Unscrupulous persons could easily have a cache of these as well as imported or serviceable guns made in a good machine shop to supply trusted customers at a black market

I believe the approach to gun control by its advocates is registration and confiscation in varying degrees. I am not alone in the belief that as fast as opposition can be overcome, guns will become unlawful for the private citizen to own. Registration - a criminal could have a registered and proven unused gun in his habitat, but use a gun bought in the black market, used and discarded if necessary without a trace. Numbers on the gun, if any, could lead nowhere. Confiscation in any degree when the fence, drugs, vandalism, sabotage, gambling, speed limits, aliens crossing our borders and many other crimes are controlled, then we might expect about the same success with gun control, although the mere ownership of a gun harms no

A huge army of law-enforcement is now spread thin and in most cases fighting a losing battle against crime. Laws not properly enforced breed disrespect for the law.

Any controversial or other person who expects a guaranteed safe existence even after the most stringent gun control is depending on faith not fact. It only takes one gun to kill a potentate. Granting an almost total success in confiscation if and when civilian guns become unlawful, each of the remaining guns will have a greater potential for evil. Why disarm those who might have the courage to stand against crime? Their existence would have a psychological as well as a positive influence on criminal activity. Must law-enforcement end in the man who is paid and wears a uniform?

I feel that, if and when, extensive gun control is made law. the administration of the law will fall into unfriendly hands. You cannot protect your freedoms when you no longer have them. The issue of gun control is here and as long as there is hope will keep coming back.

We need laws with sharp teeth for those apprehended in the commission of a crime, especially with a gun. These are the people who misuse their citizenship. Why handicap and punish the WASHINGTON - As life privacy customarily have becomes more complex and the world more threatening, the individual's right to privacy becomes more precious. There appears today to be a growing acceptance of a precept stated more than 20 years ago by Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas: "The right to be let alone is indeed the beginning of all freedom."

Concern over this right is reflected in a new law, - the Privacy Act of 1974 - the basic provisions of which have just taken effect (Sept. 27). It curbs governmental invasions of privacy by restricting the collection and use of official files on individuals and by giving citizens the right to impact and correct the files the government keeps

Or, on the other hand, whether in its zeal to expose it denies public figures the basic privacy that is the right of every free person. **☆ ☆ ☆

For example, was the press right in disclosing Rep. Wilbur Mills's misadventure at the Tidal Basin and the subsequent events that led to his hospitalization for alcoholism? The answer obviously is yes. Mills was one of the most powerful men in Washington, and it is now clear that his private excesses must have influenced the performance of his public duties.

But suppose a congressman of Mills' stature is known to have a mistress with whom he spends about as much of the people's time as some of his colleagues spend on the golf course, with no public misbehavior. Should the press report that breach of the public interest.

What about the furore over Mrs. Ford's expressed views on premarital sex? I think most journalists would not fault CBS newsman Morley Safer for asking Mrs. Ford's opinion of premaritai sex. But some would feel he invaded her privacy when he asked her how she would feel if her own daughter were involved in an affair, hypothetical though the question was.

In 1890, two young lawyers wrote an article which laid the foundation for the present legal approach to the privacy question. Samuel D. Warren and Louis D. Brandeis, who later became a distinguished Supreme Court justice, saw a threat to personal privacy in the then-new mass circulation newspapers. They said the press was going beyond the bounds of propriety and decency and then stated what might be called a philosophical basis for a respect for individual privacy:

"The intensity and complexity of life, attendant upon advancing civilization, have rendered necessary some retreat from the world, and man, under the refining influence of culture, has become more sensitive to publicity, so that solitude and privacy have become more essential to the individual . . ."

Perhaps the phrasing is too elegant for our staccato times, but the message rings true 85 years later.

Those words might well be kept handy in newsrooms and editorial offices, along with a small sign bearing the word "compassion." This would serve as an antidote to the superficially attractive idea that everything that is true can and should be published.

Shooting Bewildering

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Without ever having known Sherdell Lewis, knowing none of his friends, knowing none of the officers involved, knowing nothing at all about the case except that which poured forth in the form of news stories, this writer finds his emotions running high. He tends to ask a lot of the questions asked by many of the black people of Lincoln — Why? For what

How could it have happened? But it did and the shooting of Lewis by a county sheriff's officer Wednesday night must now be dealt with by the community.

Dealing with it is terribly complicated by a lack of information, largely the result of the refusal by County Attorney Ron Lahners to provide the community with anything with which to make a judgment. In a series of criminal events culminating with the Lewis shooting, Lahners has more and more assumed for himself a dictatorial role in the release of information.

We are not talking about information that would tend to prejudice a jury or that would interfere with the conduct of an investigation. We are talking about bare facts that might at least help people understand the actions of law-enforcement officers.

Not until two days following the shooting did Lahners release information supporting a previously unconfirmed report that Lewis was armed when he answered his front door. Holding a .22 caliber rifle, Lewis may have presented what the deputy sheriff considered to be a threat to the life of officers.

The extent of the threat Lewis presented will be a key matter for later official determination. Did Lewis present enough of a threat to justify the quick and deadly firing by the deputy sheriff?

Other questions come to mind in rapidfire order, but no answers. Whatever the circumstances, are police and sheriffs properly trained in the non-violent arrest of suspects? Are they properly trained in the use of their firearms?

After all, this is the second killing of a black man by law enforcement officers in a very short period of time. And both under questionable circumstances.

* * *

What about the suspicions of many of the black people of Lincoln? Do police and the white population in general have no real understanding at all of the black com-

Do the law enforcement agencies have a paranoid fear of blacks?

There are a multitude of legal and sociological questions that cry out for answers. It seems like such an empty thing to say but what else is there - we can only await developments to begin to form the answers and the solutions to the problems that become apparent.

Lahners is to be commended for his quick referral of the matter to appropriate federal authorities. Not only did the circumstances leave no impartial local agency to conduct an investigation, but no local agency would have been sufficiently believable, at least in the black community.

There is no reason to believe that federal authorities will conduct anything but a fair and objective investigation. There is no reason to believe that justice, ultimately, will not be done.

There is likely to be, of course, a host of matters beyond the realm of judicial findings for this community to examine when all the facts have been forthcoming. But we believe this community has the fiber to do what needs to be done.

What about the furore over Mrs. Ford's expressed views on premarital sex? I think most journalists would not fault CBS newsman Morley Safer for asking Mrs. Ford's opinion of premarital sex. But some would feel he invaded her privacy when he asked her how she would feel if her own daughter were involved in an affair, hypothetical though the question was.

* * * Public figures must accept the loss of a great deal of their privacy; that goes with acceptance of the spotlight. And they have ways of striking back through the media if they feel they have been unfairly treated. But what about the private citizen, the man or woman who doesn't seek or want publicity and who gets it only when he or she is involved in some matter of public interest.

Consider these cases: The adult son of a community leader - not a public official - is arrested on serious drug charges. Should the father be identified in the press reports?

A man of minor prominence - again not an official - dies under circumstances which, if published, would cause great pain to his family. Should those circumstances, which had nothing to do with the cause of his death, be published?

A citizen chases and wounds a bank robber. He asks that his identity not be revealed because he fears the robbers' accomplices, who are still at large. Should his name be published?

A woman is raped. She reports it to the police and an arrest is made. Does she have the right to have her identity suppressed in the news stories?

All those cases occurred. In the case of the community leader, the decision was to identify him because it added human and social elements to the story. In the case of the death under unusual circumstances, one of the newspapers of the community did not mention those circumstances in the obituary, the other disclosed them partially. In the case of the citizen who wounded the robber, the name was not published. And most newspapers withhold the names of rape victims.

Editors are faced with questions like those almost every day. And in every case they must weigh the public's right to know against the individual's right to be let alone.

Most editors will admit that there are other considerations. conscious or subconscious: a traditional belief that the truth is always publishable, a competitive urge to be first with the news, a very human - and professional - appetite for

In 1890, two young lawyers wrote an article which laid the foundation for the present legal approach to the privacy question. Samuel D. Warren and Louis D. Brandeis, who later became a distinguished Supreme Court justice, saw a threat to

beyond the bounds of propriety and decency and then stated what might be called a philosophical basis for a respect for individual privacy:

"The intensity and complexity of life, attendant upon advancing civilization, have rendered necessary some retreat from the world, and man, under the refining influence of culture, has become more sensitive to publicity, so that solitude and privacy have become more essential to the individual . . ."

Perhaps the phrasing is too elegant for our staccato times, but the message rings true 85 years later.

Those words might well be kept handy in newsrooms and editorial offices, along with a small sign bearing the word "compassion." This would serve as an antidote to the superficially attractive idea that everything that is true can and should be published.

Norfolk (AP) -- "A veritable temple of modern industry and enterprise" was built in Norfolk in 1891 and the city became the "Sugar City" for 12

It was the American Beet Sugar factory, which Norfolkans had sought for two years in competition with 21 other cities. Newspaper records show the factory was secured from Grand Island businessman Henry Oxnard, president of the American Beet Sugar Co., and built with The fortress was 300 feet by 100 feet with a 190foot smoke stack. It was built as the result of a massive effort by prominent Norfolk businessmen to bring outside industry and capital to the city.

So prized was the structure that The Norfolk Daily News printed a Red Letter Edition on its completion Sept. 15, 1891 just as it had done when construction was begun less than a year before.

At its peak, more than 250 persons were employed at the plant. The beets were grown locally and shipped by wagon and train to the plant.

After each fall beet harvest, the plant began operation, then closed at the first of the year. In 1901, 7 million pounds of sugar were produced.

Suddenly in 1902, Norfolk's reign as the "Sugar City" came to an abrupt end. Operations ceased and machinery from the plant was taken to oldest landmarks, located along Highway 81, just north of the city. It is vacant now for the first time in many years. It was vacated May 17 when the Nash Finch Co., wholesale grocery, ceased its Norfolk operations after moving into the building

Newspaper records indicate the American Beet Sugar Co. closed the plant because it felt that the land could not produce enough beets.

After the best factory left, the building and land were deeded back to Norfolk donors. The Norfolk Industries Co. even attempted to raze the building but the nearly two-foot thick walls and the four-by-nine beams of the factory were too

An insurance agent later told Nash Finch officials that the wood beams were better than steel beams because by the time they burned, the steel beams would have melted and given way.

In 1912, after being vacant for 10 years, the Norfolk Packing Co. began canning operations and the conveyor belts carried corn, tomatoes, squash, cantaloupe, potatoes, pumpkins, beans and even sauerkraut were eventually canned in the plant.

Ed Barr of Norfolk, one of the more than 150 employes of the packing company remembers he worked more than 10 years on a labeling machine at the plant, putting in long hours and receiving about $15 a week.

TEMPLE OF INDUSTRY . . . served Norfolk until May 17.

"At that time," he said, "they tried to get as much work out of everyone as they could.'

According to Barr, the packing company discontinued operations in late 1932 and moved to Plattsmouth because of cheaper freight rates.

In 1935, another food processing venture was attempted at the plant. Newspaper records say Joe Zehnder of DeForest, Wis., leased the building and opened a cheese factory.

But one year later, the plant was vacant. Until 1944, the plant stood empty or was used for storing numerous items.

Then in the fall of 1944, a fire ravaged the Nash Finch Co. operation in downtown Norfolk and in less than a week, the firm was headquarted in the old packing plant.

Herman Rawie, manager, attributed the Nash Finch move this year to the more modern company facilities in other cities and the "not so

all summer has suddenly disappeared, area grain dealers

However, only one elevator is reported to be piling grain on the ground.

Don McNeese, manager of the Hickman Farmers Grain and Feed Co., said, "We got three cars Thursday which sure helps. We have about 10,000 bushels of grain on the ground, and I am sure the pile will grow."

Barry Combs, a spokesman for the Union Pacific Railroad objects to the term boxcar.

"We ship most of the grain in hopper cars," he explained. "Perhaps 10% of our grain is shipped in boxcars. We have added 1,200 new covered hopper cars this year which helps a lot."

Combs described the UP car supply as "tight but adequate.'

A spokesman for the Burlington Northern Railroad noted that "car supplies have tightened up considerably."

"Hickman is the only place in the Denver region that has grain on the ground," according to James Hagle of Denver, Burlingtron Northern public relations man. "It is not unusual for slight delays to take place in car delivery. We allocate the cars in the order of the request. We are also offering substitute truck service to some elevators."

Long lines of trucks have been backing up at terminal elevators as country elevators struggle to stay ahead of the farmers' combines harvesting corn, grain sorghum and soybeans simultaneously.

HEATHEN RAGE?"

2nd Psalm and Acts 4:25

that appeared in this Column about the middle of December

Permit me to tell you of a dialogue I had with God Almighty, or, one attempted. "Unbelief" will prevent, or cut off a dialogue with God. Several examples: In chapter 4 of both Matthew and Luke we have Christ's Temptation by the Devil. The Devil quoted Scripture, misapplying it in order to tempt Christ. Christ quickly cut off that part of the dialogue, saying: "Get thee hence, Satan, for it is written, thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve." And in the passage in Luke, Christ said: "Get thee behind Me, Satan, for it is written - note how Christ fought the Devil with what The Bible said: "It is written, It is written!" We submit that God's attitude towards His own people if they try to dialogue in unbelief is the same as His attitude towards the Devil! Did He not say to Peter about the same thing in Matthews 16:23 and Mark 8:33: "Get thee behind Me, Satan, thou art an offense unto Me: for thou savorest not the things that be of God but those that be of men?" What did Peter do, or say, that caused Christ to abruptly cut him off? It was because Peter did not believe and rejected God's message of "DEATH PENALTY FOR SIN!" Are we not as individuals, states, and the nation, doing the same thing when we refuse to visit the "death penalty" as God's Word Commands to stop murder, and other horrible crimes? Without "Faith" you cannot have true dialogue with The Almighty! However, the Devil will not only talk with you, but also put a hook in your nose and lead you where he wants you to go!

Ten or twelve years ago some authority here in DeKalb County took a strong stand against the horrible, and abominable, and wickedness of pornography, warning all places that sold books and literature of severe penalties for the guilty. Shortly after this I was in one of the side-of-the road stores that stay open about 16 hours of the day and looked at the books for sale. Some of them "stunk terribly" from the standpoint of modesty, chastity, morality, decency, etc. And probably what was worse was the manifest Scorn and Disregard of The Laws Warning! The thought came, and I fear time has proved it about correct: The Devil will win out over The Law!

Shortly after this experience the effort was made to have "a Dialogue with God Almighty!" Recalled what God said through Christ: When Christ returned in power He would give some He found faithful "authority over one or more cities." Then I told The Lord how I would handle this Store Owner who had just defied the Legal Authority by continuing to sell the dirty, sinful, and abominable literature: He would be given one hour to clean up his place. If not clean at the end of the hour, orders would be given to set the place afire and oil fed to the fire until everything was consumed, good and bad; and in case he belly ached unduly about this judgment, orders would be to throw him into the fire when hottest! THE DEVIL AND EVIL MEN CAN BE CONTROLLED AND HANDLED WHERE YOU LEAN HARD ON THE AUTHORITY OF GOD ALMIGHTY! And do not believe the Devil though a great imitator of the Son of Man, Christ could imitate The Son of Man's Action as the time in The Book of Daniel He went into the fiery-furnace and walked with the three Hebrew Children and brought them out without the smell of smoke on them! While this judgment would be terrible indeed, such action might save the man, his wife, and little children from going through another Sodom and Gomorrah or spending Eternity in The Lake of Fire, as well as multitudes of other men, women and children thus warned of "THE WRATH TO COME!"

BLESSED ARE THE PURE IN HEART: FOR THEY SHALL SEE GOD!" Matthews 5:8. "BE READY WHEN HE COMES AGAIN. HE IS COMING

AGAIN SO SOON!"

2nd Psalm and Acts 4:25

What follows are quotations and comments from an article that appeared in this Column about the middle of December

Permit me to tell you of a dialogue I had with God Almighty, or, one attempted. "Unbelief" will prevent, or cut off a dialogue with God. Several examples: In chapter 4 of both Matthew and Luke we have Christ's Temptation by the Devil. The Devil quoted Scripture, misapplying it in order to tempt Christ. Christ quickly cut off that part of the dialogue, saying: "Get thee hence, Satan, for it is written, thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve." And in the passage in Luke, Christ said: "Get thee behind Me, Satan, for it is written - note how Christ fought the Devil with what The Bible said: "It is written, It is written!" We submit that God's attitude towards His own people if they try to dialogue in unbelief is the same as His attitude towards the Devil! Did He not say to Peter about the same thing in Matthews 16:23 and Mark 8:33: "Get thee behind Me, Satan, thou art an offense unto Me: for thou savorest not the things that be of God but those that be of men?" What did Peter do, or say, that caused Christ to abruptly cut him off? It was because Peter did not believe and rejected God's message of "DEATH PENALTY FOR SIN!" Are we not as individuals, states, and the nation, doing the same thing when we refuse to visit the "death penalty" as God's Word Commands to stop murder, and other horrible crimes? Without "Faith" you cannot have true dialogue with The Almighty! However, the Devil will not only talk with you, but also put a hook in your nose and lead you where he wants you to go!

Ten or twelve years ago some authority here in DeKalb County took a strong stand against the horrible, and abominable, and wickedness of pornography, warning all places that sold books and literature of severe penalties for the guilty. Shortly after this I was in one of the side-of-the road stores that stay open about 16 hours of the day and looked at the books for sale. Some of them "stunk terribly" from the standpoint of modesty, chastity, morality, decency, etc. And probably what was worse was the manifest Scorn and Disregard of The Laws Warning! The thought came, and I fear time has proved it about correct: The Devil will win out over The Law!

Shortly after this experience the effort was made to have "a Dialogue with God Almighty!" Recalled what God said through Christ: When Christ returned in power He would give some He found faithful "authority over one or more cities." Then I told The Lord how I would handle this Store Owner who had just defied the Legal Authority by continuing to sell the dirty, sinful, and abominable literature: He would be given one hour to clean up his place. If not clean at the end of the hour, orders would be given to set the place afire and oil fed to the fire until everything was consumed, good and bad; and in case he belly-ached unduly about this judgment, orders would be to throw him into the fire when hottest! THE DEVIL AND EVIL MEN CAN BE CONTROLLED AND HANDLED WHERE YOU LEAN HARD ON THE AUTHORITY OF GOD ALMIGHTY! And do not believe the Devil though a great imitator of the Son of Man, Christ could imitate The Son of Man's Action as the time in The Book of Daniel He went into the fiery-furnace and walked with the three Hebrew Children and brought them out without the smell of smoke on them! While this judgment would be terrible indeed, such action might save the man, his wife, and little children from going through another Sodom and Gomorrah or spending Eternity in The Lake of Fire, as well as multitudes of other men, women and children thus warned of "THE WRATH TO COME!"

BLESSED ARE THE PURE IN HEART: FOR THEY SHALL SEE GOD!" Matthews 5:8.

Peru 'Ghost Car' Now His Flagship

By GORDON WINTERS Star Staff Writer

For the first five years he owned the Cadillac "old Doc Vance" used it, among other things, to make house calls.

That alone tells you something about the antiquity of the car.

After five years "Doc Vance" parked the car in the garage. There it rested while the years rolled on.

Gradually it became a "ghost car", a legend in the area around Peru. And when it went up for sale with the Rose Tynon estate, people came from miles around to see it.

E. O. Peters, born in 1928, the same year the car was built, came to bid. He came with $7,000 he had in a spare cash kitty that had been growing since he entered business as a mechanical con-

It wasn't enough money. Peters found himself the top bidder at $8,800.

"Did you ever borrow $1,800 on a Saturday afternoon . . . at a sale?" Peters asked. "I finally got it from an Auburn banker." He shifted his cigar to the other side of his mouth. "Never met the #*?/! before in my life."

You might say that $8,800 is a lot to pay for a car. But you might not, too. "I've got a '75 Continental sitting over I paid $11,000 for," Peters said, jerking his thumb over his shoulder.

The Cadillac is the flagship of a 16-member fleet of old autos and pickups, many of them rusted, dented and missing parts, that Peters has acquired during the past couple years as a hobby.

"The doc told me to get away from these hari-kari business deals and get involved with something totally different," Peters said.

The something he chose was old vehicles. His finds range from a pickup with a weathered wooden cab built in the same fashion as a horsedrawn wagon to a panel truck bearing the legend "Petsch Sound and Motion Pictures of Pleasant

The story behind the truck, as Peters knows it, is that Petsch used the truck to carry a projector and screen from town to town in the area, showing movies in town halls.

"The only things bad on it were the battery, tires and distributor," Peters said.

He had little difficulty finding a suitable battery. Finding the tires was harder, but he found a California manufacturer who specializes in making tires for antique cars.

The real challenge was finding a distributor. Peters gave the job to his "expediter," employe Ray Barnard. About $300 to $500 worth of phone calls later Barndard found one in Seattle, Wash., still packed in grease, for $131.

DEAR ABBY: Isn't it true that the original sin was sexual intercourse? And doesn't it say in the Bible that Jesus was conceived "immaculately," meaning that he was conceived without sexual intercourse?

H.J. IN N.C. DEAR H.J.: The original sin was eating the forbidden fruit in the Garden of Eden.

The terms, "Virgin Birth" and "Immaculate Conception" are commonly confused. The Virgin Birth refers to the miraculous conception of Jesus.

The Immaculate Conception s to MARY, tl Jesus, because she was conceived without the original sin on her soul. It is NOT the same as the Virgin Birth.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please remind your readers that when they, or their children answer the telephone, to say only,

Some children are instructed to answer with, "Smith's residence, Mary speaking." Or if they have a housekeeper, she is told to answer with, "Smith's residence." Some even answer with their telephone number.

Without realizing it, they give too much information to a stranger who could use it for potentially dangerous purposes.

When you answer the telephone, and the party on the other end asks, "What number is this?" DO NOT disclose your number. Instead, ask, "What number did you call, please?"

It is best when answering a telephone to simply say, "Hello," and if the caller does not identify himself immediately — hang up.

By crosschecking numbers, addresses and the names of children, criminals can gain valuable access to the family's comings and goings, with possible harm to their children while they are away from home.

Never tell a stranger that a member of the family is "out of town," away from the house or when he or she will return.

The Nebraska Medical Association Friday proposed a $500,000 ceiling on medical maipractice judgments in the state along with limitations on attorney fees. The proposal would establish a patients' compensation fund, patterned after the workmen's compensation system, and supplied with annual payments by all health care providers to help fund judgments.

Also included in the measure are a medical qualifications commission, which would help police the medical practice, and a medical review panel, which would offer its judgment on the legitimacy of potential maloractice cases.

Lawsuits would be under a two-year statute of limitations for persons over age six at limited by a provision that the plaintiff would be liable for all costs if he sues and is not successful after the medical

She Turns Deaf Ear To Hearing Aid Talk

By JOANNE FARRIS QUESTION: "Do you know of any sure-fire way to persuade an old, deaf person to accept the assistance of a hearing aid? My mother is 76, and for the last two years her hearing has been getting worse and worse.

"Her doctor and I agree that life would be better for her and a lot easier for my wife and me and our family, since Mother lives with us, if she would use a hearing aid. Nothing anyone has said is of any avail. What can we

ANSWER: This is a really tough problem that the families of a lot of old people have to deal with. I invite my readers to write to me with suggestions as to how to handle this matter.

One doctor I talked to said that many old persons, even though they would hear better with a hearing aid, find so much sound distraction from the nonselectivity of the sounds the aid brings to their ears that they become confused.

His advice was to let the hardof-hearing person get along without a hearing aid as long as possible. Apparently he and his family have done that.

I know one man who is about 80. He is very deaf and will not accept a hearing aid. As a result, he cannot participate in a conversation. When he is in a group he is not aware that anyone else is speaking when he gets a notion to say something, and, of course, he cannot hear any reply to what he says. He is virtually isolated whether or not he is

Have you thought of talking to her about this when you and she are by yourselves? She may not be aware of your discomfort. If you are tactful and truthful, you may be able to make it clear to her that you do like to have her talk to your friends but the absence of the dentures makes it

Also be honest and tactful with respect to your feelings about how she looks. At the same time listen to her reason for not wearing her dentures. It could be that she has an intermittent inflammation of her gums and just cannot wear.

It is wonderful what honesty tempered by love and understanding can do in any relationship between two sensitive adults. ((c) 1975, McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Star Carrier Jonathan Skinner

Jonathan Skinner's service is "great" - just ask Mrs. Meyers or Mrs. Jenkins. Both women claim that he is the best carrier they've ever had.

A carrier salesman for The Lincoln Star, Jon says the route is easy and the money comes in handy. He also feels that a morning route has a definite advantage because it permits him to do whatever he wants after school. Some of the things he has wanted to do were additional part-time jobs at a College View meat locker and a bowling alley.

But all work and no play would make Jon a dull boy and his trip to Worlds of Fun, swimming and his model car hobby have successfully helped him to avoid such a fate.

Canada Newsprint Shipments Down

Montreal (AP) — Canadian newsprint shipments to all markets in August totaled 622,775 tons, down 4.3% from July and off 23.4% from a year earlier, according to the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association.

The August level of shipments was the lowest since January 1972.

Shipments to the United States, Canada's largest market, were 446,358 tons, down 4.3% from July and off 21.3% from August 1974, the association said Friday.

The trade group reported that August newsprint production lagged behind shipments for the fourth consecutive month, totaling 596,913 tons, down 7.5% from July and 27.6% below a vear earlier. Approximately 24% of Canadian capacity was affected by strikes during August and the production rate fell to 69% of rated capacity, compared with 74% in July and 89% in June this year.

The strikes have continued to spread across Canada. Currently some 42% of Canada's rated capacity of newsprint is idle.

Producers for the fourth month in a row were forced to draw on newsprint stocks, and in August they fell 9.1% to 257,461 tons. However, this was up 13.4% from August 1974. The August level of newsprint stocks was the lowest since January this year.

Shipments to all markets in the first eight months totaled, 5.8 million tons, down 8.3% from the like year-earlier period, while exports to the U.S. totaled 4.2 million, off 10.5%.

Production to date this year was 5.9 million tons, a decline of 7% from the 1974 period.

pricing agreement among the members of the Organization of averages:

the OPEC meeting progressed.

But the market seemed clearly determined not to make any significant move either way until the outcome of the meeting was known.

It made only a mild and shortlived attempt to rally during the morning on the news that the United States had posted its fourth largest trade surplus on record in August, with exports outpacing imports by $1.04

The Dow showed a gain of only a little more than 2 points at its late-morning peak before settling back into a aimless drift through the afternoon.

Fears of price wars touched off by some discount-pricing moves in the aliminum industry this week kept some of the bigname basic materials issues under pressure.

U.S. Steel, for example, was down 21/8 at 66; Alcoa lost 11/8 to 39%, and International Paper dropped 11/4 to 561/6.

She Turns Deaf Ear To Hearing Aid Talk

ting worse and worse. "Her doctor and I agree that life would be better for her and a lot easier for my wife and me and our family, since Mother lives with us, if she would use a hearing aid. Nothing anyone has said is of any avail. What can we

ANSWER: This is a really tough problem that the families of a lot of old people have to deal with. I invite my readers to write to me with suggestions as to how to handle this matter.

One doctor I talked to said that many old persons, even though they would hear better with a hearing aid, find so much sound distraction from the nonselectivity of the sounds the aid brings to their ears that they become confused.

His advice was to let the hardof-hearing person get along without a hearing aid as long as possible. Apparently he and his family have done that.

I know one man who is about 80. He is very deaf and will not accept a hearing aid. As a result, he cannot participate in a conversation. When he is in a group he is not aware that anyone else is speaking when he gets a notion to say something, and, of course, he cannot hear any reply to what he says. He is virtually isolated whether or not he is QUESTION: "I don't know if you can help me. My grandma comes to stay with us for a month about three times a year. I love her and enjoy her visits, but she embarrasses me a whole lot by coming in when my friends are over and talking to them with her false teeth out.

"It is so hard to understand some of the words she savs and it makes her face look all shrunken, as if she were really old. Why does she do that?"

ANSWER: I think she does it to be comfortable. Probably her dentures don't fit too well and they hurt if she wears them too

Have you thought of talking to her about this when you and she are by yourselves? She may not be aware of your discomfort.

If you are tactful and truthful, you may be able to make it clear to her that you do like to have her talk to your friends but the absence of the dentures makes it harder for them to understand

Also be honest and tactful with respect to your feelings about how she looks. At the same time listen to her reason for not wearing her dentures. It could be that she has an intermittent inflammation of her gums and just cannot wear

It is wonderful what honesty tempered by love and understanding can do in any relationship between two sensitive adults.

Canada Newsprint Shipments Down Montreal (AP) - Canadian newsprint

shipments to all markets in August totaled 622,775 tons, down 4.3% from July and off 23.4% from a year earlier, according to the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association. The August level of shipments was the lowest since January 1972.

Shipments to the United States, Canada's largest market, were 446,358 tons, down 4.3% from July and off 21.3% from August 1974, the association said Friday.

The trade group reported that August newsprint production lagged behind shipments for the fourth consecutive month, totaling 596,913 tons, down 7.5% from July and 27.6% below a Approximately 24% of Canadian capacity was affected by strikes during August and the production rate fell to 69% of rated capacity, compared with 74% in July and 89% in June this year.

The strikes have continued to spread across Canada. Currently some 42% of Canada's rated capacity of newsprint is idle.

Producers for the fourth month in a row were forced to draw on newsprint stocks, and in August they fell 9.1% to 257,461 tons. However. this was up 13.4% from August 1974. The August level of newsprint stocks was the lowest since January this year.

Shipments to all markets in the first eight months totaled, 5.8 million tons, down 8.3% from the like year-earlier period, while exports to the U.S. totaled 4.2 million, off 10.5%.

Production to date this year was 5.9 million tons, a decline of 7% from the 1974 period.

Marks Time; Trade Slow

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market marked time Friday, attracting little trading interest in the absence of any word of a decision by oil-producing countries on their post-Oct. 1 pricing plans.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials lost 1.64 to 818.60 after hovering in a narrow range throughout the session. It wound up the week with a net loss of 11.19 points.

But gainers outweighed losers in the over-all New York Stock Exchange tally, 711 to 565 among the 1,743 issues traded. The NYSE's composite index rose .26 to 45.70, and Standard & Poor's 500-stock index was up As the market ended the week there was still no report of a pricing agreement among the members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries on the third day of their meeting in Vienna. There was widely varied speculation among analysts over how investors might respond to any of the myriad proposals mentioned in news reports as the OPEC meeting progressed.

But the market seemed clearly determined not to make any significant move either way until the outcome of the meeting was known.

It made only a mild and shortlived attempt to rally during the morning on the news that the United States had posted its fourth largest trade surplus on record in August, with exports outpacing imports by $1.04 billion

The Dow showed a gain of only a little more than 2 points at its late-morning peak before settling back into a aimless drift through the afternoon. Fears of price wars touched

off by some discount-pricing moves in the aliminum industry this week kept some of the bigname basic materials issues under pressure. U.S. Steel, for example, was while climbed 134 to 53. The company turned in a strong showing in mid-September auto sales figures issued Wednesday. Analysts also traced buying in the stock to the theory that the company-a major user of a variety of metals and other basic materials-would benefit from any basic-industry price wars that might develop.

Among other auto issues, Ford was up 1/2 at 375/8; Chrysler picked up 1/4 to 105/8, and American Motors rose 1/8 to 51/2.

Merck jumped 51/4 to 71 in active trading. The company reported development of a combination of drugs which seems effective against all known bac-

ITE Imperial dropped 134 to 16 and Combustion Engineering rose 21/2 to 443/4. The companies announced that they had ended merger talks.

Oil stocks were mixed amid the continued uncertainty over OPEC plans.

The American Stock Exchange market value index was up .22 at 84.78.

In the over-the-counter market, the NASDAQ composite index rose .04 to 76.14.

moments we were greater than Oklahoma tonight," University of Miami Coach Carl Selmer said after his extremely young team scared the No. 1 Sooners before losing 20-17 Friday night. Selmer doggedly maintained after Georgia Tech ran over the Hurricanes 38-23 last weekend that his defense was right for the Wishbone offense, and only his team's execution was wrong.

Against Oklahoma, the Hurricanes proved him right, holding All-American Joe Washington to 54 yards in 14 carries. Miami outgained the Sooners 289 yards to 176.

Selmer had nothing but praise for the high-stepping Washington, saying "He's a great athlete, one of the finest I've ever seen."

Equally complimentary, Washington said, "This Miami team really tackled hard."

Selmer blamed costly mistakes for his team's narrow loss. "Those two big errors really took it out of us," he said in referring to a blocked punt and a fumble which led to both Oklahoma touchdowns.

"We're a young football team, I keep telling everyone this. We

MIAMI (AP) - "I think at are going to make mistakes,"

Selmer said. Sooner Coach Barry Switzer noted, "Miami scored more points on us than any team did last year."

Oklahoma opened this season with a 62-7 rout of Oregon and 46-10 conquest of highly regarded Pittsburgh. "I'll have to evaluate the films for a long time to see how we can do better," Switzer said. "With tonight's game, we don't deserve to be ranked No. 1. But no No. 1 team ever went through a season and played every game at top capabilities."

'We were damn lucky to win." Switzer said. "We played as poorly as we have in years. We made so many critical errors we weren't in the game the second half."

They really prepared well for us.

"I told people all week long that Miami plays well against the better teams and they sure showed it tonight," he added.

Manhattan, Kan. - Aided by the play of a host of walkons, Nebraska's freshmen team walked away from Kansas State's Junior Varsity here Friday afternoon to the tune of

Led by such non-scholarship athletes as Tim Hager, Isiah Hipp, Tom Vering, Doug Long, and numerous recruits, Nebraska mauled the Wildcats.

The Cornhusker yearlings, facing a Kansas State team sprinkled with upperclassmen, dominated the contest as four different backs scored touchdowns.

In a game plagued with penalties — 23 infractions were whistled during the contest -Nebraska took less than two minutes to get on the scoreboard.

A fumble by quarterback Bob Suarez on the 'Cats first play from scrimmage, got the Cornhuskers rolling as Oudious Lee pounced on the loose pigskin on Kansas State's 18 yardline.

A Dandy

Nebraska I-back Richard Berns, a 6-2, 200-pound dandy out of Wichita Falls, Tex., got the first score of the game on a one-vard plunge with 13:01 remaining in the first quarter.

Berns was the spark in the drive, picking up 16 of the 18 yards on three carries, while walkon fullback Keith Steward of Steubenville, Ohio added the other two yards.

Quarterback Hager, a walkon from Lincoln Southeast, directed the opening drive. The 6-1, 170pound Hager ended up the afternoon with a one-yard touchdown score was setup by yet another run, completed four of six passes for 56 yards, and led all the scoring drives but one.

"The running of our backs really made things a lot easier for me," Hager said. "Our backs would pick up good yardage on first down and we could do what we wanted with our offense."

In addition to Berns, who picked up 78 yards on 13 carries, Hipp was the leading rusher for Coach Jim Ross' Huskers.

Hipp Moves

A walkon from Chapin, S.C., Hipp picked up 82 yards on 14 carries, much to the delight of a Nebraska cheering section which appeared to outnumber the Kansas State home crowd.

"I thought all our backs ran very well," said Ross, who stuck 61 Pillen to his promise of alternating two platoons both offensively and defensively. "A lot of these kids are very close in talent. There isn't that much difference between the starters and the se-was putting points on the board, the Husker defense was harrassing K-State all day behind the play of linebackers Vering and Long — and linemen Bill Barnett, Kelvin Roehrs, Lee, Lawrence Cole and Rod Horn.

Linebackers Tough

"I thought our linebackers, especially Vering and Long played extremely well," said defensive coach Mike Church. "For the first game we were checking a lot of calls and they were picking them up well."

Vering a 6-2, 195-pounder from Fremont, wasn't as pleased with his performance as his coaches.

"I didn't move very well and missed a lot of tackles," Vering said. "But it felt great to play a game after practicing for six Hager got his touchdown with Former Omaha South back Mike Burton got the final Nebraska touchdown on a sixyard tackle-busting romp with :25 seconds left in the game. Sukup added his third extra point conversion.

"Our defense helped our offense a lot by getting good field position," offensive coach Guy Ingles said. "These kids are hard workers who respect Coach Ross a great deal and wanted to win for him. It's that simple."

Two former Nebraskans had to suffer with the Wildcats through the shutout. Former Husker defensive back Pat Fischer, an assistant coach at Kansas State, was named the head coach for the contest against his alma mater. Wildcat reserve quarterback Greg Jackson played his high school ball at Creighton Prep. Jackson played well before leaving the field injured midway through the third quarter. The only dim spot in Nebraska's victory was the apparent loss of defensive tackle Mark Goodspeed. The 6-6, 235pound Goodspeed was thought to have suffered a broken wrist in the second quarter.

Friday night at Seacrest Field ended with the Rockets supplying enough electricity to light the stadium using halfback Steve Eliker as the plug, as Lincoln High fell 33-7 before 4,500 Els Praised Links

The Links dealt the heavilyfavored Rockets an early blow by scoring their first touchdown of the season after holding Northeast to zero yards on its first possession.

Coach Jerry Ball's Links ground out 54 yards in clockwork fashion against the strong Northeast defense and scored in eight plays.

Link fans marked the time of 7:16 left in the first quarter when quarterback Dean Carstens scored from three yards out after halfback Uduak Udofia picked up 32 yards on carries of 18, six and eight yards.

245 Yards

From that point on however, Northeast did all the scoring as Eliker accounted for 245 yards total offense and three touchdowns after the initial

The Links didn't give in immediately though as they held Northeast to minus three yards after its next possession.

The Rocket defense held its ground and after a John Beaver punt to the Northeast 18 yard line, Eliker leaped over two players at the line of scrimmage and raced 82 yards for the first Northeast touchdown.

Eliker kept coming back for repeat performances, scoring the next touchdown on a two yard run, and then another, this one on a 53 yard bomb from quarterback Doug Berka.

Like Eliker, Berka also had an outstanding game as he completed six of 10 passes for 180 yards and two touchdowns while rushing for 31 yards and a touchdown of his own from one vard out.

Statistically, the game was closer than the 33-7 score would indicate despite Eliker's 182 yards rushing on 10 carries week that our young kids were starting to grow up," Ball said. "I thought the kids hit real good tonight. I didn't expect Northeast to score 33 points off us. They've got a good ballclub."

Northeast coach Bob Els heaped praise on the Links after the physical battle.

"That's the hardest hitting team we've played this year, Els said. "We were able to get the big play on them, but otherwise they did a pretty good Ball was worried about the big play passing possibility with Berka throwing.

"We were hoping they wouldn't be forced to use the pass that much because if there's one place we're weak, it's against a particular pass play," he said. "Berka's not a classic type quarterback, but he sure gets the job done well."

Els credited the line with much of the passing success as did assistant coach Andy Loehr. "Doug's a fine passer, but that offensive line did a heck of a good job for him tonight," Els

"I thought the line worked their pass protection very well," Loehr added.

Knights Tip Hastings

By TOM VINT

Hastings - From the opening kickoff, Lincoln Southeast made it apparent the Knights were out to even the get even.

A game-opening 68-yard touchdown drive sparked Southeast to a 12-0 win over Hastings and an even record at 2-2 with back-to-back wins. As in last week's Ralston win,

Southeast took it to its opponent on the ground. Coach Frank Solich had visions of using an improved passing game against the Tigers but the need never arose. Instead, the Knights piled up

223 yards rushing, including 56 on the opening drive capped by a six-vard Eddie Davis to Ron Rech pass play. Rech made a diving catch with 4:56 left in the first quarter and Southeast was ahead to stay. Mastings' first possession resulted in tragedy. After moving the ball 21 yards with a power running game of its own, quarterback Ed Minnick was cracked by Southeast linebacker Dick Meginnis and coughed up the ball. Knight teammate Ross Loudenback fell on the ball at

This time the Knights used six running plays and an assortment of Davis passes to put the ball on the one. On the second play of the second quarter, Greg Prochaska bulled over for the second Knight TD.

Apparently extra points weren't in the game plan for Southeast, however. The first attempt was foiled when the center snap sailed over the head of kicker Howard Misle. The second try failed when Davis' pass attempt was knocked down.

Still, the Knights had a 12-0 lead and a hard-hitting defense to back it up.

Southeast forced two pass interceptions and two lost fumbles on Hastings. The Tigers had only one healthy scoring threat, that being in the second quarter. Hastings took the ball on their moments we were greater than Oklahoma tonight," University of Miami Coach Carl Selmer said after his extremely young team scared the No. 1 Sooners before losing 20-17 Friday night.

Selmer doggedly maintained after Georgia Tech ran over the Hurricanes 38-23 last weekend that his defense was right for the Wishbone offense, and only his team's execution was wrong.

Against Oklahoma, the Hurricanes proved him right, holding All-American Joe Washington to 54 yards in 14 carries. Miami outgained the Sooners 289 yards to 176.

Selmer had nothing but praise for the high-stepping Washington, saying "He's a great athlete, one of the finest I've ever seen."

Equally complimentary, Washington said, "This Miami team really tackled hard."

Selmer blamed costly mistakes for his team's narrow loss. "Those two big errors really took it out of us," he said in referring to a blocked punt and a fumble which led to both Oklahoma touchdowns.

Manhattan, Kan. - Aided by the play of a host of walkons, Nebraska's freshmen team walked away from Kansas State's Junior Varsity here Friday afternoon to the tune of

Led by such non-scholarship athletes as Tim Hager, Isiah Hipp, Tom Vering, Doug Long, and numerous recruits, Nebraska mauled the Wildcats.

The Cornhusker yearlings, facing a Kansas State team sprinkled with upperclassmen, dominated the contest as four different backs scored touchdowns.

In a game plagued with penalties - 23 infractions were whistled during the contest -Nebraska took less than two minutes to get on the scoreboard.

A fumble by quarterback Bob Suarez on the 'Cats first play from scrimmage, got the Cornhuskers rolling as Oudious Lee pounced on the loose pigskin on Kansas State's 18 yardline.

A Dandy

Nebraska I-back Richard Berns, a 6-2, 200-pound dandy out of Wichita Falls, Tex., got the first score of the game on a one-yard plunge with 13:01 remaining in the first quarter.

Berns was the spark in the drive, picking up 16 of the 18 yards on three carries, while walkon fullback Keith Steward of Steubenville. Ohio added the other two yards.

Quarterback Hager, a walkon from Lincoln Southeast, directed the opening drive. The 6-1, 170pound Hager ended up the afternoon with a one-yard touchdown run, completed four of six passes for 56 yards, and led all the scoring drives but one.

"The running of our backs really made things a lot easier for me," Hager said. "Our backs would pick up good yardage on first down and we could do what we wanted with our offense."

In addition to Berns, who picked up 78 yards on 13 carries, Hipp was the leading rusher for Coach Jim Ross' Huskers.

drive was an 18-yard pass from Hager to end Tim Smith of Chula Vista, Calif. Smith's pass catching and punting were two of the bright spots for the Huskers. Nebraska completed five passes for 74 yards, and everyone was caught by the 6-3, 192-pound Smith. While the Nebraska offense was putting points on the board, the Husker defense was harrassing K-State all day behind the play of linebackers Vering and Long - and linemen Bill Barnett, Kelvin Roehrs, Lee, Lawrence Cole and Rod Horn.

Linebackers Tough

"I thought our linebackers, especially Vering and Long played extremely well," said defensive coach Mike Church. "For the first game we were checking a lot of calls and they were picking them up well."

Former Omaha South back Mike Burton got the final Nebraska touchdown on a sixvard tackle-busting romp with :25 seconds left in the game. Sukup added his third extra point conversion.

"Our defense helped our offense a lot by getting good field position," offensive coach Guy Ingles said. "These kids are hard workers who respect Coach Ross a great deal and wanted to win for him. It's that simple." Two former Nebraskans had to suffer with the Wildcats through the shutout. Former Husker defensive back Pat Fischer, an assistant coach at Kansas State, was named the head coach for the contest against his alma mater. Wildcat reserve quarterback Greg Jackson played his high school ball at Creighton Prep.

Jackson played well before leaving the field injured midway through the third quarter. The only dim spot in Nebraska's victory was the ap-jured in the first half and out for the game. Doggett, a 170-pound senior, opened the second half for the 'Bolts leading a 65-yard Pius drive in four plays with runs of 12, 42 and 8 yards moving to the Minden three, where he crashed over the middle to boost the 'Bolts to a 20-0 lead.

Whippet third-string quarterback Peter Meyer, who had never played quarterback before led a Whippet drive from their

27-yard line to the Pius X 47 in five plays, but a fumble halted the drive and set up the next 'Bolt score. After moving to the 35, Fuller hit receiver Ron Coniglio, who was all alone in the end zone to give Pius X a 27-0 advantage. Another Score

To make the quarter perfect, the 'Bolts scored on their next possession, when Doggett raced through four would-be tacklers 53-yards for the score with 54 seconds left in the third quarter. Doggett rushed for 143 yards in the contest.

second team added the final score on a 21-yard dash by reserve halfback Mark Bruckner, who gained 66 yards in the fourth quarter. "We keep improving every week," said Pius X coach Vince Aldrich. "I think that this week's game was against a much tougher team even though the score was the same," Aldrich said referring to a 39-0 win over McCook last week. "I felt that Pat Fuller's passing was the thing that broke the game open for us," Aldrich said. "I figured we'd be in for a long game after seeing the first quarter. He really opened up the running for us with his passing." The 'Bolts gained 352 yards rushing, gaining 244 in the second half, while Fuller connected on 5 passes for 100 yards. Pius X, now 4-0, will travel to Beatrice next Friday, while Minden, now 1-3, will face

Leibel Guns Waverly Past Norris, 14-6

Waverly - Senior Myron Leibel scored two touchdowns here Friday night to lead eighthranked Waverly to a 14-6 victory over Norris in Capitol Conference action.

Leibel broke open a scoreless duel in the third quarter when he blocked a Norris punt at the 16 yard line and recovered the loose ball in the end zone. Dan Hill gave the Vikings a 8-0 advantage carrying in the extra points.

Norris opened up the fourth quarter scoring when Dave Lueders hit Steve Rolfameyer with a 33-yard pass.

The Vikings took the ensuing kickoff and marched 83 yards in 12 plays for the clinching touchdown. Leibel passed to Doug Tvrdy for 33 yards to keep the drive alive. Then scored on a two-yard plunge giving the Vikings a 14-6 lead.

Norris held the advantage in statistics, outrushing Waverly 133 to 127 and passing for 118 yards to 33 for the Vikings.

Waverly's record is now 4-0 while the Titans fell to 1-3 for the year.

York 18, Fairbury 0

York - Second-ranked York used the running of Ken Conway and a stingy defense to blank Fairbury 18-0 Friday night in non-conference action.

Conway, a senior I-back, scored on runs of 33 and 52 yards and totaled 108 yards on six attempts.

The Duke defense held Fairbury to 61 total yards, the third time this season the Dukes have held their opponents to less than 100 total yards.

Papillion 26, Beatrice 13

Beatrice - Papillion used a strong running attack to defeat Beatrice, 26-13, in a Class A Apollo Conference game Friday night. Papillion raised its record to 3-1, while Beatrice fell to 1-2.

Papillion totaled 269 yards on the ground and was led by Mike Smith, who scored two touchdowns and rushed for 91 yards. Mike Fantaski added two field goals for Papillion.

Friend 36, Tecumseh 8

Friend - Senior Kirk Kellough ran for three touchdowns as second-rated Friend blasted Tecumseh 36-8 Friday night in Southern Nebraska Conference play.

Kellough scored on runs of 21, 62 and three as he totaled 127 yards rushing on seven carries. The win lifts the Bulldogs to a

Morning Briefing A Sports Roundup

FOOTBALL

The WFL demanded that the NFL return wide receiver John Gilliam, whom the NFL amended its bylaws to sign once the WFL Chicago Winds folded.

The rejection of a management offer by the NFL Players threw the pro football labor dispute into another stalemate and a congressional hearing was scheduled Monday on the prolonged controversy.

The Buffalo Bills signed veteran running back Vic Washington as a free agent. Washington had been released by Houston earlier and had been a starter for the Oilers last season. The Green Bay Packers acquired veteran offensive tackle Ernie McMillan, former all-pro with the Cardinals and put guard Ernie Janet on the injured reserve list. The Oakland Raiders and Kansas City Chiefs have swapped their NFL home dates of Oct. 12 and Dec. 21 to avoid a possible World Series conflict. The Oakland home game will be the December date, to avoid a last-minute change should the Oakland A's have the opening games of the World Series.

A Council Bluffs Thomas Jefferson High School junior varsity football player, Stacy Fox, 16, died Thursday afternoon after being hospitalized during a game. Hospital reports indicate that the cause of death was tentatively considered to be a broken blood vessel in the brain and the injury did not necessarily occur on the football field.

BASKETBALL

The New York Knicks, desperate for a big man, said they have asked the Los Angeles Lakers for permission to talk with Wilt Chamberlain, the highest scorer in pro basketball history. All-star guard Earl Monroe, who had played out his option with the Knicks last season, signed a multi-year contract with the NBA team. Terms of the contract were not disclosed, but Monroe reportedly received a substantial raise, lifting his salary over $200,000 per year.

Moses Malone, standout of the Utah Stars, suffered a broken right foot in a scrimmage Thursday and will be out of action three to five weeks.

Bob MacKinnon, director of player personnel for the Buffalo Braves since last May, was named general manager of the NBA club. The Braves have been without a GM since near the end of the 1974-75 season when Eddie Donovan quit to become GM of the Knicks.

Bradley University is not considering any immediate action against head basketball coach Joseph R. Stowell because of his arrest in a gambling raid, a university spokesman said.

BASEBALL

Canada's largest brewery, Labatts Brewery in Toronto, has offered $15 million for the San Francisco Giants and the team's owner, Horace Stoneham, is said to be seriously considering the proposal, according to the Associated Press.

American League President Lee MacPhail announced the establishment of a permanent annual award to the league's outstanding designated hitter.

The Kansas City Royals dropped Harry Dunlop as a coach and said they hope to have their 1976 staff lined up by World Series time. Dunlop has coached both third and first bases.

Dorchester Snaps Streak

Dorchester - It's been a long dry spell, but the rains came for Dorchester. The Class D team broke a 30-game losing streak with an 18-6 win over Deshler

Friday in its homecoming game. First year coach Gary Cooper directed the attack, the first win since 1971. Dorchester is now 1-3, with the early losses coming at the hands of rated teams. Kevin Roth opened the scoring with a 69-yard pass interception. Randy Slepticka recovered a Dorchester fumble in the end zone for the second tally and quarterback Karl Feeken took the ball over on a sneak for the final score. Doug Howe rushed for 99 yards in the victory.

Chaffee Still Optimistic Despite Player Loss

By KEN HAMBLETON State College Writer

Nebraska Wesleyan football coach Harold Chaffee isn't as worried as most coaches would be if they faced the same situa-

Paul Cramer and Ken Berg, key members in the Plainsmen offense are not expected to play this Saturday against Graceland, at O.N. Magee Stadium on the NWU campus at 7:30 p.m.

Cramer, who is the third leading rusher in the state college ranks with 227 yards, is suffering from a shoulder injury and Berg is still bothered by an ankle injury.

"We have our offensive line set and I have confidence in them doing the job," said Chaffee. "Bryan Stallworth and Mark Brown will take the spots for this game at running backs, and I'm sure they can perform suitably also,"

One bright note offensively for the Plainsmen is that tight end Dave Struebing will return to the lineup after sitting out the last two week's with an ankle injury. Defensively the picture is

The Votava brothers, Scott, a junior and Doug, a freshman, will join with seniors Clint Kim- problem, stopping numerous brough and Mike Reta in the Missouri Valley drives and backfield. This same defensive backfield was responsible for second half. four interceptions last week against Peru. "We expect Graceland to throw the ball quite a bit," said Chaffee, "so we're going with our fastest men in the backfield. I think they can do the job."

Yellowjacket quarterback Chris Gibson threw three touchdowns against Monmouth last weekend in a 32-22 Graceland win. Gibson also completed nine of 14 passes for 201 yards and ran for a touchdown to rally his team from a 14-0 deficit.

NCC Opener

Nebraska College Conference action opens this weekend with Chadron at Kearney.

Chadron suffered a loss to highly rated Dickinson (N.D.) last week while the Antelopes nipped Fort Hays.

Other Top Games

In other top games this weekend Concordia travels to Peru and Wayne hosts Doane. Concordia, 0-3 on the year, fell to Missouri Valley the current leader in the NAIA poll. The Bulldogs proved once again that defense is not the holding the game close until the Offensively Concordia has been improving after a disasterous start in which the Buildogs suffered 10 turnovers in each of the first two games.

Doane will seek to repeat its 27-7 win over the Wayne Wildcats last year in Crete. But the Wildcats, coming off an impressive 16-6 win over Midland last week should make it a tough

Top-ranked Wayne is just ahead of Doane in team defense in the state college statistics allowing only 196.7 total yards per game, while Doane has a 198.0 mark.

Wayne has the edge offensively though, with running back Brian Moeller, the state's leading rusher and Maurie Mintken the leading receiver.

This week's selections in bold are: Graceland at Nebraska Wesleyan at 7:30 p.m. O.N. Magee Stadium, Lincoln; Doane at Wayne, 7.30 p.m.; Concordia at Peru, 7:30 p.m.; Tarkio at Midland: Dakota Wesleyan at Dana; Chadron at Kearney, 7:30 p.m.: Hastings at William Jewell (Kan.) and Nebraska at Omaha at Northern Michigan.

Chaffee Still Optimistic Despite Player Loss

By KEN HAMBLETON State College Writer

Nebraska Wesleyan football coach Harold Chaffee isn't as worried as most coaches would be if they faced the same situa-

Paul Cramer and Ken Berg, key members in the Plainsmen offense are not expected to play this Saturday against Graceland, at O.N. Magee Stadium on the NWU campus at 7:30 p.m.

Cramer, who is the third leading rusher in the state college ranks with 227 yards, is suffering from a shoulder injury and Berg is still bothered by an

"We have our offensive line set and I have confidence in them doing the job," said Chaffee. "Bryan Stallworth and Mark Brown will take the spots for this game at running backs, and I'm sure they can perform suitably also.'

One bright note offensively for the Plainsmen is that tight end Dave Struebing will return to the lineup after sitting out the last two week's with an ankle injury. Defensively the picture is brough and Mike Reta in the backfield. This same defensive backfield was responsible for four interceptions last week against Peru.

'We expect Graceland to throw the ball quite a bit," said Chaffee, "so we're going with our fastest men in the backfield. I think they can do the job."

Yellowjacket quarterback Chris Gibson threw three touchdowns against Monmouth last weekend in a 32-22 Graceland win. Gibson also completed nine of 14 passes for 201 yards and ran for a touchdown to rally his team from a 14-0 deficit.

NCC Opener

Nebraska College Conference action opens this weekend with Chadron at Kearney.

Chadron suffered a loss to highly rated Dickinson (N.D.) last week while the Antelopes nipped Fort Hays.

Other Top Games

In other top games this weekend Concordia travels to Peru and Wayne hosts Doane. Concordia, 0-3 on the year, fell to Missouri Valley the current leader in the NAIA poll.

The Bulldogs proved once junior and Doug, a freshman, again that defense is not the will join with seniors Clint Kim- problem, stopping numerous Missouri Valley drives and holding the game close until the second half.

Offensively Concordia has been improving after a disasterous start in which the Bulldogs suffered 10 turnovers in each of the first two games. Doane will seek to repeat its 27-7 win over the Wayne Wildcats last year in Crete. But the Wildcats, coming off an impressive 16-6 win over Midland last week should make it a tough

Top-ranked Wayne is just ahead of Doane in team defense in the state college statistics allowing only 196.7 total yards per game, while Doane has a 198.0 mark Wayne has the edge offensively though, with running back Brian Moeller, the state's leading rusher and Maurie Mintken the leading receiver.

This week's selections in bold are: Graceland at Nebraska Wesleyan at 7:30 p.m. O.N. Magee Stadium, Lincoln; Doane at Wayne, 7:30 p.m.; Concordia at Peru, 7:30 p.m.; Tarkio at Midland; Dakota Wesleyan at Dana; Chadron at Kearney, 7:30 p.m.; Hastings at William Jewell (Kan.) and Nebraska at Omaha at Northern Michigan.

Texas Takes Golf Tourney

Oklahoma City - Texas, led by medalist Randy Simmons' 54hole score of 207 topped Oklahoma State in the fourth annual Oklahoma City University All College Golf Tournament here Friday.

Texas finished with a total of 836, topping Oklahoma State's 846, Houston (867) and Oral Roberts (869) finishing third and fourth respectively.

Nebraska finished 17th with a total of 919.

'Jays To Host Cage Tourney

Kansas City (AP) - The National Athletic Collegiate Athletic Association has advised Creighton in Omaha that it will host the first step in Midwest Eliminations in 1977.

The basketball tournament is one of eight eliminations in the nation and will feature two games, with the winner advancing to regional competition.

OPPD, Opponents Duel Over New Plant

By BOB GUENTHER Star Staff Writer

A day-long verbal duel between the Omaha Public Power District (OPPD) and opponents of nuclear power forced the Nebraska Power Review Board to delay action on a second nuclear power plant at Ft. Calhoun until Oct. 23.

OPPD testimony indicated that even if construction costs of the $1 billion plant more than doubled, the power generated will still be cheaper than if the power were purchased from another utility.

Nuclear power foes, however, disputed OPPD's projections, citing experience with the existing nuclear station there as well as a near disaster at the Tennessee Valley Authority's Harper's Ferry Station.

The hearing was called by the Power Review Board because it felt some questions about the plant had not been answered at an August hearing. The construction schedule calls for completion of the 1,150-megawatt station by 1983. It is being jointly financed by Nebraska Public Power District (NPPD) and OPPD.

The Lincoln Electric System hopes to finance and purchase 13% of the plant. The Lincoln City Council is supposed to decide Monday whether LES and the city should buy into the nuclear plant. The plant is being fought by the Nebraska Public Power Project, a loose-knit group of citizens headed by

Rich Lombardi, an aide to Sen. Steve

Fowler of Lincoln. Friday's hearing was intended to answer the board's questions surrounding NPPD's power needs, the cost of construction and the availability of uranium.

Don Schaufelberger, NPPD deputy general manager, said the NPPD system will have a 3,700-megawatt peak demand in 1983. Without the second Ft. Calhoun plant, NPPD will only be able to produce 3,400 megawatts. (NPPD's peak demand for 1975 has been pegged at 2,100 megawatts.)

Questioned about possible drops in demand due to anticipated increases in the cost of electricity, Schaufelberger said the relationship between the two is "very elusive."

Curtailment of other fuel supplies may increase electricity needs, he said. Other users are not appreciably affected by rate increases, he said.

"Farmers aren't going to let their corn burn up just because electricity costs more," he said. Only half of the irrigation wells in the state are presently electrically powered. Just the conversion of irrigators from propane and other fuels will drive up the system's peak power demands.

Dennis Keefe, attorney for the protestors, challenged OPPD's estimates on the proposed plant's efficien-

OPPD said the plant operating at 69% of capacity will generate a kilowatt of power at a cost of $704

Keefe, however, replied that the first Ft. Calhoun station operated at 45% of capacity for its first two years. Asking Ken Ford of OPPD if he could name any nuclear plant which has operated at 69% efficiency during its first two years, he was told that the witness knew of none.

Ford said the early years in a nuclear plant's operations are "difficult" but he said the 45% figure was not unreasonable.

Keefe also noted that the first Ft. Calhoun plant's original $63 million price tag eventually ballooned into $180 million. Ford replied that was due to unforeseen events. However, he said he still believes the $810 million figure for the second plant is still good.

A subsequent witness, Gerald Krause, reported that the first Ft. Calhoun plant operated between 65-83% of its capacity during the past summer.

OPPD, Opponents Duel Over New Plant

By BOB GUENTHER Star Staff Writer

A day-long verbal duel between the Omaha Public Power District (OPPD) and opponents of nuclear power forced the Nebraska Power Review Board to delay action on a second nuclear power plant at Ft. Calhoun until Oct. 23.

OPPD testimony indicated that even if construction costs of the $1 billion plant more than doubled, the power generated will still be cheaper than if the power were purchased from another

Nuclear power foes, however, disputed OPPD's projections, citing experience with the existing nuclear station there as well as a near disaster at the Tennessee Valley Authority's Harper's Ferry Station.

The hearing was called by the Power Review Board because it felt some questions about the plant had not been answered at an August hearing.

completion of the 1,150-megawatt station by 1983. It is being jointly financed by Nebraska Public Power District (NPPD) and OPPD.

The Lincoln Electric System hopes to finance and purchase 13% of the plant. The Lincoln City Council is supposed to decide Monday whether LES and the city should buy into the nuclear plant.

The plant is being fought by the Nebraska Public Power Project, a loose-knit group of citizens headed by Rich Lombardi, an aide to Sen. Steve Fowler of Lincoln.

Friday's hearing was intended to answer the board's questions surrounding NPPD's power needs, the cost of construction and the availability of

peak demand for 1975 has been pegged at 2,100 megawatts.)

Questioned about possible drops in demand due to anticipated increases in the cost of electricity, Schaufelberger said the relationship between the two is "very elusive."

Curtailment of other fuel supplies may increase electricity needs, he said. Other users are not appreciably affected by rate increases, he said.

"Farmers aren't going to let their corn burn up just because electricity costs more," he said. Only half of the irrigation wells in the state are presently electrically powered.

Just the conversion of irrigators from propane and other fuels will drive up the system's peak power demands.

Dennis Keefe, attorney for the protestors, challenged OPPD's estimates on the proposed plant's efficien-

OPPD said the plant operating at 69% of capacity will generate a kilowatt of power at a cost of $704

Keefe, however, replied that the first Ft. Calhoun station operated at 45% of capacity for its first two years. Asking Ken Ford of OPPD if he could name any nuclear plant which has operated at 69% efficiency during its first two years, he was told that the witness knew of

Ford said the early years in a nuclear plant's operations are "difficult" but he said the 45% figure was not un-

Keefe also noted that the first Ft. Calhoun plant's original $63 million price tag eventually ballooned into $180

Ford replied that was due to unforeseen events. However, he said he still believes the $810 million figure for the second plant is still good.

A subsequent witness, Gerald Krause, reported that the first Ft. Calhoun plant operated between 65-83% of its capacity during the past summer.

Criminal Records Open For Citizens' Inspection

Citizens can demand to know what criminal records are being kept on them, beginning Dec. 15, according to a measure approved Friday by the State Crime Commission.

The measure will be enforced by the commission by withholding federal funds and by ordering other agencies not to share their crime record information with agencies that do not comply.

The measure applies to all criminal justice agencies in the

The records that citizens can demand are descriptions, arrests, detentions, indictments, informations and other formal criminal charges, as well as the disposition of those charges.

The records which must be made available do not include reports from informants or reports on investigations of crimes.

Any person who thinks an agency has a criminal record on Criminal Justice.
